

well, hello there!

I'm Kristie Keever

Dear Global Leader,

Hello, hello and Welcome! I am excited to meet you and get to know you and your brand!

As one of the amazing bonuses you get with your program is a personalized AUDIT and REVIEW of your brand. If you've ever wondered if you are showing up the way you really want to be seen (as the expert that you are) and what you may be missing to get you there, then you are going to love this bonus.

My goal is to help you put your best BRAND forward when people meet you, to articulate the swagger of instant credibility when they see you online, and do so in a way that converts your target audience into clients with the level of excitement equal to winning the lottery.

My name is Kristie Keever, I teach women on a mission how not to just design a great brand, but how to BECOME a brand of impact. For over a decade I have worked privately with clients to plan, design and build a brand of impact. They have since; tripled and quadrupled their revenue, been featured in major media publications, spoken internationally, developed signature programs, and signed series book deals and build tribes that span the globe.

Translation = Impact.

My mission is to create clarity from the complicated and to empower you to attract loyal tribes with my proven method known as the R.I.P.L. Effect (Rise. Income. Prestige. Legacy) based on secrets used by the most iconic celebrity brands in the marketplace today.
